

David,

I think you need to know, in a time of frustration for you because of new challenges and your daily work load, my appreciation and admiration. First, I am very grateful for your support and concern for my well being. My Life is richer for knowing you and sharing time together. You are hard working, have high work ethics and extremely intelligent. Those are only a few things I admire.

I am very grateful to have the opportunity to work with you and learn a new business. Thank you for your patience and willingness to help me at a time when you have so many important tasks and new projects.

Thank you,

Much Love

Sheila
